

SITEMASON® + HIGHER EDUCATION

Sitemason is a content management system that empowers higher education institutions with flexible and scalable solutions to manage and grow their online presence.

We are a Nashville-based company formed in 1999. Over the past fourteen years, we've been rigorously testing, refining and enhancing our platform based on the needs of our higher education customers. Our core philosophy is to employ the best programming practices and technologies and support our customers' use of our product with comprehensive and personalized technical support.

Colleges and universities differ in size and need, and Sitemason is capable of scaling to accommodate that diversity. We offer discounted hourly rates, recurring hosting costs, individual user accounts, as well as Enterprise options.
