Recent history with the Wildcats

Cumberland has lost four straight in the series with Bethel University, both regular season meetings the last two seasons, with the Wildcats winning by an average of 17.5 points per outing. The Bulldogs won both contests in 2007 (86-76 and 91-72). The teams were both members of the TCAC and the Mid-South Conference at the same time but did not meet during the 2004-06 seasons at all.

02/26/09	McKenzie, Tenn.	L, 77-68

Last year's results

Bethel University won both contests last season, 81-60 in Lebanon and 77-68 in McKenzie. The Bulldogs led 32-27 at halftime in Lebanon, forcing 13 Bethel turnovers with Chaquaila Gatlen scoring 11 points. But CU shot just 29 percent in the second half and the Wildcats outscored the Bulldogs, 53-29, for the victory. Nina Djokovic scored 16 points to lead three double figure scorers for the Wildcats. In McKenzie Djokovic netted 29 points and Anna Trull posted 21 points, as Bethel overcame 27 turnovers in the victory. Simone Ryan led the Bulldogs with 22 points and 11 rebounds.

Brown keeps up the scoring pace

Junior Keshia Brown started the season slow, but the Clarksville, Tenn., native has really picked up her scoring over the last eight games, averaging 13.3 points per outing during the stretch with seven double figure outings. She posted 17 points against 13th-ranked Univ. of the Cumberlands, had 15 versus No. 6 Freed-Hardeman and scored 16 points at 17th-ranked Trevecca. Brown's numbers are up across the board this season as a whole after she battled through a painful ankle injury for the entire 2008-09 campaign, one that limited her mobility as well as her ability to condition. She is averaging five more minutes per game this season so far (25.3) and has improved her shooting by nine percentage points. Brown is averaging 11.3 points per game overall, second best on the club.

Bailey up-and-down

Junior point guard Allysia Bailey's season has been marked by good play and bad play and little in-between, causing the Walters State CC transfer to come off the bench over the last six games. Bailey has seven double-figure scoring games this season, but she has scored in double digits in consecutive outings just twice all year. She also has more turnovers than assists (23-to-17) but has 20 steals. Her play has been better of late, including 10.6 points over the last five games, with four double figure contests. She scored 14 points against 13th-ranked Univ. of the Cumberlands and followed that with 11 points in the conference opener at Lyon College. The Knoxville, Tenn., native netted 11 points in each of the last two outings, versus Blue Mountain and at 17th-ranked Trevecca. She has shared time at the point with Angie Wells, averaging 23.9 minutes per game.

Forwards combine for big numbers

First-year head coach Jeremy Lewis has settled on a three-player rotation at the forward positions over the last five games, starting junior Ashley Whitmore and freshman Stephanie Martin and bringing sophomore Simone Ryan off the bench. The trio averages a combined 18.6 rebounds per game, with Ryan leading the way with 7.4 boards per contest. The Byhalia, Miss., native has five double figure rebounding games this season, including 14 against Tennessee Wesleyan and 10 versus 13th-ranked Univ. of the Cumberlands. Whitmore has a pair of double-digit rebounding efforts, with 12 against Talladega College and 17 last Thursday versus Blue Mountain. The Antioch, Tenn., native is averaging 5.4 caroms per game as well as 5.7 points per outing. Martin has probably been the team's most pleasant surprise, grabbing 5.8 boards per game and adding 7.5 points per contest. She scored 11 points versus Tennessee Wesleyan and added 10 points against No. 6 Freed-Hardeman. She also averaged 7.6 rebounds over a five-game stretch from December 12-January 9.

Tidbits

Sophomore guard Brittany Cash has struggled from behind the arc over the last six contests, making just 4-of-20 (.200) 3-pointers during the stretch. Ironically, Cash has started the last six games, her only starts of the year ... Senior Danielle Spencer joined the team after New Year's but has not played in any of the four games in which she has suited up ... Comparative numbers: In CU's seven victories, the club has averaged 73.7 points, shooting 43 percent from the field and 40 percent (43-for-107) from 3-point range. In the squad's six losses, they have averaged just 52.3 points, making only 36 percent from the floor and a putrid 22 percent (14-of-64) from behind the arc.

Landers out indefinitely

Freshman guard Kristi Landers started the first six games of the season but has been sidelined since December 2 with plantar fasciitis. She was scheduled to return in four weeks, which would have been in time for the conference slate, but the Briarcrest Christian HS product has added a walking boot to her wardrobe in the last two weeks and her return this season is up in the air. If she is able to play against in 2009-10, it would be in late February at the earliest.

Bulldogs ink Seymour's Cowan

Cumberland women's basketball coach Jeremy Lewis announced the signing of Seymour, Tenn., native Casie Cowan to scholarship papers for the 2010-11 academic year. Cowan is the first signee for Cumberland's squad for next season. Cowan has played four seasons for coach Andy Rines at Seymour High School, earning All-District 3-AA honors as a sophomore and junior and All-Region 2-AA accolades last season. She was named to the Knoxville News-Sentinel Prep XTra Preseason Second Team for this season after garnering Honorable Mention honors at the end of the 2008-09 campaign. Seymour was ranked seventh in east Tennessee in the preseason as well. Cowan averaged 11 points and three assists per game as a junior. The Lady Eagles won Region 2-AA last season and made the state sectionals. She is the daughter of Christy West and Rod Cowan and is also a 2008 Junior Rodeo Champion in Breakaway Roping.

Cumberland picked fifth in preseason

The Cumberland women's basketball program was picked seventh in a vote of league coaches released during the TranSouth Conference Media Day in Jackson, Tenn. Defending national champion Union University was the unanimous choice as the top team in the conference. Union received all seven first-place votes and 63 points in the Preseason Coaches Poll, while Freed-Hardeman, Trevecca Nazarene and Bethel Univ. were unanimous choices as the Nos. 2, 3 and 4 teams in the league, respectively. Lyon College (33), Martin Methodist (26), Cumberland (25), Blue Mountain (12) and Mid-Continent (9) rounded out the preseason poll. At least one TranSouth Conference team has reached the NAIA championship game in each of the last five years, with a conference member winning the national title in four of the five seasons. Cumberland reached the title game in 2007 before falling to Lambuth Univ.
