Rosewood dives into pool campaign

Residents and staff are working on a program to develop and build a swimming pool at Rosewood. The pool campaign was launched at a special dinner held this Spring at Rosewood.

Participating in the presentation was former Mayor Bob Price, who was honored to describe the project to residents and their families. Concept drawings were unveiled. This campaign will continue as residents and staff look for possible funding sources to match those already received. More information to follow.

USO Show honors service men and women

Back by popular demand, our annual USO Show played to a packed house of residents and guests. The pre-Memorial Day event honored the men and women who have served in our armed forces.

This party was a home run!

Rosewood celebrated Older Americans Month in May by throwing a baseball-themed party for those residents 90 years of age and older.

In Honor Of Those Who Served

Actors played the roles of WWII-era singers, dancers and soldiers during Rosewood's annual salute to the men and woman who served in the armed forces.

The names of Rosewood residents who served were read off and each of those in attendance received a rose. Our special residents include:

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME

Rosewood honors senior residents

Residents who reached the age of 90 and above were honored at a special event at Rosewood. The “Major League 90-Plus Party” was a happy celebration with baseball stories and comedy routines such as “Casey at the Bat,” and “Who’s on Third?”

NAME sang a stirring rendition of “The Star Spangled Banner,” accompanied by Ted Burgess, executive director, on piano. This was followed by a rousing rendition of “Take Me Out to the Ball Game,” with enthusiastic audience participation. All residents age 90 and above were introduced and applauded, while staffers passed out white and navy ball caps to the recipients.

The festivities were topped off with standard ballpark fare, such as hot dogs, chips, sodas, ice cream bars, peanuts and candy. A base-ball game on the North Lawn followed that afternoon.

Independent living with options for more services

Garden Apartments offer best of both worlds

Imagine relaxing in your own Garden Apartment at Rosewood, where you can enjoy all the services of senior living when you want them.

Offering great views in a beautiful setting, the

Two Bedroom Garden Apartment
1165 Net Square Feet

Garden Apartments are perfect for seniors who want independent living — with all the amenities and additional services available when desired. From meals in our dining room to cleaning services, options can be added on and completely tailored to fit your needs and desires.

“This is a great option for active seniors,” said Ted Burgess, executive director at Rosewood. “This really gives people flexibility, depending upon their own needs and interests.”

Rosewood is offering a special incentive to those who make their move by Sept. 30. Residents will receive a decorating allowance, giving them the opportunity to truly make their new home a reflection of their own taste and style.

Residents will also receive the service of Rosewood’s move-in coordinator. Our coordinator will make arrangements with a mover to transport your furniture and make sure everything is ready for your special move-in day.
