Discussion following the film

Lost Boys of Sudan is an award-winning documentary that follows two Sudanese refugees on an extraordinary journey from Africa to America. Orphaned as young boys in one of Africa's cruelest civil wars, Peter Dut and Santino Chuor survived lion attacks and militia gunfire to reach a refugee camp in Kenya along with thousands of other children. From there, remarkably, they were chosen to come to America. Safe at last from physical danger and hunger, a world away from home, they find themselves confronted with the abundance and alienation of contemporary American suburbia.

(Running time: 87 minutes)

Viewers' Comments

"The view of America through refugees' eyes is rich with teaching possibilities."

"Lost Boys is a great tool for raising awareness on Sudan."

"It's real, that's our story. When I was watching, thinking that's it, that's what I've been through, now the whole country will understand."
