Martin posts first career double-double

Freshman Stephanie Martin posted her first career double-double, scoring 21 points with 10 rebounds in CU's 68-63 loss to 22nd-ranked Bethel Univ. The Florence, Ala., native made 8-of-9 field goals and 5-for-9 at the foul line for the first 20-point game of her career and only the fourth this season by a Bulldog player (Keshia Brown - 2, Allysia Bailey - 1). It was just the second double-figure scoring game for Martin in the last nine contests. There's something about playing against the Wildcats for her though. She talked 10 points and nine boards in the first meeting this season at Bethel on January 18.

Close losses keep stinging Bulldogs

Cumberland dropped a 68-63 decision to 22nd-ranked Bethel Univ. Thursday at home, the eighth defeat this season for the Bulldogs by seven points or less. Cumberland lost five times by seven points or less from December 30-January 25 and dropped eight of 10 total outings during that four-week stretch, with the average margin of defeat just 6.6 points (a grand total of 53 points). Five of the eight losses came against ranked foes, including the Univ. of the Cumberlands (67-65), Freed-Hardeman (59-53), Trevecca Nazarene (61-50), Bethel Univ. (70-65), and Union Univ. (69-63). CU's average margin of defeat in TranSouth action is 14.1 points, but eight of the 11 losses have come by 11 points or less, including five by seven points or less.

Bailey keeps putting up good numbers

Junior Allysia Bailey has become Cumberland's most consistent offensive threat over the last three games, averaging 17.0 points per game on 49 percent shooting (20-for-41) from the field, well above her season field goal percentage of 42 percent. The Knoxville, Tenn., native also has seven assists and four steals over the last three outings, versus Trevecca Nazarene, Union Univ. and Bethel Univ., all ranked foes. She was a very efficient 8-of-12 from the floor for 17 points in Thursday's 68-63 loss to 22nd-ranked Bethel and posted a career-best 20 points at Union Univ. this past Monday. Bailey has produced 14 games this season in double figures, including 10 of the 13 TranSouth contests.

Bulldog stay in games with defense

After ranking in the Top 5 nationally in scoring defense for most of the season, Cumberland dropped to 12th in the country after allowing 89 points against both Freed-Hardeman and Blue Mountain in back-to-back games earlier this month. But the Bulldog defense reappeared and has allowed just 67.0 per game over the last three outings, including only 56 points to Trevecca Nazarene last Saturday. Cumberland is currently allowing 62.0 points per game this season. The Bulldogs have allowed 60 points or less in 12 of the team's 21 contests this season and 70 or less in 17 outings. Compare that with last year's club that allowed 70 points or more 16 times and gave up 100 on three separate occasions. CU ranks third in the TranSouth in field goal percentage defense at .383, second in 3-point field goal percentage defense at .270, third in blocks per game with 3.19 and sixth in steals with 8.38.

Bulldogs lead series with RedHawks

Over the last seven seasons, Cumberland has won 10 of 14 meetings against Martin Methodist, including a 5-1 record in Pulaski. The Red Hawks have won four of the last five contests overall in the series, including a 53-43 triumph in Lebanon earlier this season. Cumberland won nine consecutive meetings in the series from 2004-07, including in the first round of the TranSouth Championships in 2006. CU's average margin of victory during the nine-game winning streak was 14.2 points.

turnovers, a category in which she leads the Bulldogs with 64 overall, a little more than three per game.

This year's meeting

Cumberland scored just 15 points in the second half, making 26 percent from the field, and Martin Methodist took advantage in a 53-43 Red Hawks victory January 23 at the Dallas Floyd Recreation Center. Cumberland led 28-22 at halftime but did not reach double digits in the second half until a Keshia Brown bucket with 2:53 remaining in the game. Martin Methodist used a 22-6 run over a 12-minute span to take control of the game, with the Bulldogs going 2-for-13 from the floor with seven turnovers. The turning point of the game came with the Bulldogs ahead 32-28 early in the second half. Brown was called for a charge, the fifth offensive foul call of the game against the Bulldogs, and CU head coach Jeremy Lewis expressed his displeasure, drawing a technical foul. Micah Anderson hit the two free throws for MMC and the visitors never looked back. It also started the Bulldogs stretch of just two field goals over the next 12:22 of the game. Allysia Bailey led the Bulldogs with 11 points but was limited because of four fouls, three offensive, while no other CU player was in double figures. Whitney Robison went 10-for-11 from the field and posted 22 points along with seven rebounds, while Anderson scored 11 points with eight boards for the Red Hawks.

Bulldogs ink Seymour's Cowan

Cumberland has signed Seymour, Tenn., native Casie Cowan to scholarship papers for the 2010-11 academic year. Cowan has played four seasons for coach Andy Rines at Seymour High School, earning All-District 3-AA honors as a sophomore and junior and All-Region 2-AA accolades last season. She was named to the Knoxville News-Sentinel Prep XTra Preseason Second Team for this season after garnering Honorable Mention honors at the end of the 2008-09 campaign. Seymour was ranked seventh in east Tennessee in the preseason as well. Cowan averaged 11 points and three assists per game as a junior. The Lady Eagles won Region 2-AA last season and made the state sectionals. She is the daughter of Christy West and Rod Cowan and is also a 2008 Junior Rodeo Champion in Breakaway Roping.
