

Bibliography of Heritage Development Sources

Updated June 27, 2005

The Heritage Development Institute is partnering with the NPS National Heritage Areas Washington office to compile a comprehensive bibliography of sources concerning heritage development. The challenge in developing this research tool is the broad scope of topics relating to heritage development. Our objective is to explore and provide information on the numerous sub-disciplines of heritage development. We encourage website visitors to inform us of additional sources worth listing by emailing hdi@mtsu.edu. We look forward to hearing your opinions and thoughts on improving this important research tool.
