Foreword

The Tennessee Independent Colleges and Universities Association (TICUA) is pleased to present the results of its fall 2007 off-site/satellite campus survey. The purpose of this survey was to gain a better understanding of the educational opportunities available to students beyond the 37 member institution main campuses. This report includes data on each off-site and satellite campus including location, the array of degree and/or certificate programs offered, and the number of students served by each program.

The survey found that 12 of the 35 responding TICUA member institutions offer off-site or satellite campuses. These 12 campuses provide over 67 off-site or satellite programs to students beyond their main campus. In the fall of 2007, nearly 7,000 students were served by these off-site and satellite campuses. The off-site facilities present students with alternatives to study a variety of programs (and obtain an array of degrees) in education, business, nursing, ministry, as well as many others. By providing further opportunities for students to participate in higher education, TICUA member institutions are improving access for thousands of students.

We hope that this report is helpful to you. We strive to make sure that the information contained in this publication is as accurate and current as possible. This study reflects the information available at the time the study was completed. It should be noted that off-site and satellite campuses can be added or removed depending on student demand or institutional priority.

We welcome your thoughts and comments on this publication at research@ticua.org.

County Information:

The off-site/satellite locations are dispersed across 34 Tennessee counties (34/95). Six offsite locations are located in Virginia, two offsite campuses are located in Kentucky, and one offsite campus is located in North Carolina. Including TICUA main campuses, TICUA institutions provide educational opportunities to students in 43 Tennessee counties (or 45 percent of the counties) in the State.

Methodology

TICUA compiled the study results from an off-site/satellite campus survey conducted during the fall of 2007. In addition, follow-up phone calls were made to campuses to verify information. All but two of the member institutions completed and returned the survey resulting in a response rate of 95%.

The purpose of this survey was to gain a better understanding of the educational opportunities available to students beyond TICUA member's 37 main campus locations.

TICUA defines an off-site or satellite campus as a separate teaching-learning facility beyond the main campus. An off-site and/or satellite campus includes any facility offering programs toward degree and/or certificate completion to students in a location other than the main campus. This definition does not include study abroad programs, internships, or honors programs. Institutions used their own definition to determine whether the program represented a partnership.

This survey is conducted every other year.
