Bulldogs leads series with King

Cumberland leads the all-time series with King College, 11-0, though the teams have met just once in recent years, an 82-80 victory triumph November 3, 2007. Renae Williams scored 32 points in the win for the Bulldogs, while Ashley Matthews added 12 points and Kari Maddox had 11. Beth Raby led three King playes in double figures with 14 points.

Cash not hitting 3-pointers

After posting four double figure scoring games in the first seven games of the season, sophomore Brittany Cash has just one double-digit effort over the last nine contests and is shooting just 28 percent (8-for-29) from 3-point range during the stretch. The Sparta, Tenn., native scored 13 points and hit three 3-points against top-ranked Union Univ. last Thursday, but otherwise has netted five points or less in five of the last nine outings. Cash's downward trend from behind the arc has followed the script of the entire squad, as the Bulldogs have made only 27 percent (27-of-101) from 3-point range over the last nine games. Compare that with the first seven contests of the year when CU hit 38 percent (37-for-98) from behind the arc.

Gonzalez scoreless for just second time

Sophomore Tamara Gonzalez was held scoreless in Saturday's loss to Martin Methodist, just her second scoreless game of the year. The other came November 13 versus Talladega College, a contest in which the Asuncion, Paraguay, native played just seven minutes, recovering from an illness that sidelined her earlier in the week in an exhibition game at Samford Univ.

Gonzalez took just two shots, both 3-pointers, versus Martin Methodist, despite playing 39 minutes. She did post a pair of assists and three steals in the CU loss. Gonzalez has struggled from the field in several games of late, going 2-for-10 at Trevecca Nazarene (Jan. 16) and 0-for-10 at Bethel Univ. (Jan. 19). She is still the team's second leading scorer, averaging 10.4 points per game and hitting 38 percent (27-for-71) from 3-point range this season.

Bailey continues string of strong efforts

Junior Allysia Bailey started the season up-and-down, with good games followed by bad ones and little in-between. The Knoxville, Tenn., native has put together a string of five straight double figure outings and seven in the last eight games, averaging 10.1 points per game, right at her season average. She has scored 11 points in four of the last five contests and 10 in the other. Bailey's trouble all season long has been turnovers, where she averaged 2.0 miscues per game. She does have 23 steals though, tied for second on the club, while averaging 10.3 points per game for the year.

Brown's streak comes to an end

Junior Keshia Brown ended a streak of eight consecutive double-digit scoring outings, scoring eight points in Saturday's loss to Martin Methodist on 3-of-7 shooting. The Clarksville, Tenn., native was also just 2-for-6 at the foul line after making 21 of her last 25 foul shots over the three previous games. Brown averaged 14.5 points per game during the eight games, hitting 43 percent (37-for-86) from the field and 73 percent (41-of-56) at the free throw line. She has scored in double figures in nine of the 11 last outings and currently leads the Bulldogs with 11.9 points per game this season.

Ryan continues to hit the boards

Sophomore Simone Ryan is averaging just 22.9 minutes per game this season, coming off the bench for nine straight games before starting Saturday against Martin Methodist. Three fewer minutes this season has not decreased her ability to hit the boards. The Byhalia, Miss., native is averaging a team-best 6.9 rebounds per game and has led the Bulldogs in caroms 10 times this season and 26 times in 45 career games. Ryan has five double-figure rebounding games in 2009-10 and eight career contests with more than 10 boards.

Scoring down for Whitmore

Junior Ashley Whitmore was a steadying influence for the Bulldogs during nonconference play, averaging 6.1 points and 4.7 rebounds per game. She scored six or more points four times in the first nine games but the Antioch, Tenn., native has totaled just 26 points in seven TranSouth Conference games (3.7 per outing), and 13 of those came in one contest, January 14 versus Blue Mountain. Whitmore has maintained her rebounding acumen, posting 4.7 per outing in TSAC play as well. One problem in conference play for Whitmore has been foul trouble, who has played with four personals in five of the seven outings.

Bulldogs continue with close losses

Cumberland lost for the seventh time in eight games with Saturday's 53-43 defeat to Martin Methodist, with five of the defeats coming against ranked opponents. The average margin in the five losses to ranked foes is just 6.7 points (four of six points or less). The Bulldogs continue to get close, but have been unable to pull out victories in the closing minutes. CU shot just 26 percent in the second half versus MMC, losing a six-point halftime lead en route to the loss. A 14-3 spurt by top-ranked Union Univ. last Thursday after Cumberland took a four-point lead midway through the second half was too much for the home team to overcome. Cumberland lost 67-65 to then 13th-ranked Univ. of the Cumberlands on December 30 in the final game of the Cumberland Classic and has also dropped a 59-53 decision to sixth-ranked Freed-Hardeman and a 70-65 loss at 19th-ranked Bethel Univ. Discouraging as the losses may be, last year CU dropped games to the same five opponents by an average of 25.2 points per game (with conference foes, in the first meetings of the year).

six games of the season but has been sidelined since December 2 with plantar fasciitis. She was scheduled to return in four weeks, which would have been in time for the conference slate, but the Briarcrest Christian HS product has still not been able to practice and her return this season is up in the air. If she is able to play again, it would be in late February at the earliest.

Bulldogs ink Seymour's Cowan

Cumberland women's basketball coach Jeremy Lewis announced the signing of Seymour, Tenn., native Casie Cowan to scholarship papers for the 2010-11 academic year. Cowan is the first signee for Cumberland's squad for next season. Cowan has played four seasons for coach Andy Rines at Seymour High School, earning All-District 3-AA honors as a sophomore and junior and All-Region 2-AA accolades last season. She was named to the Knoxville News-Sentinel Prep XTra Preseason Second Team for this season after garnering Honorable Mention honors at the end of the 2008-09 campaign. Seymour was ranked seventh in east Tennessee in the preseason as well. Cowan averaged 11 points and three assists per game as a junior. The Lady Eagles won Region 2-AA last season and made the state sectionals. She is the daughter of Christy West and Rod Cowan and is also a 2008 Junior Rodeo Champion in Breakaway Roping.

Cumberland picked fifth in preseason

The Cumberland women's basketball program was picked seventh in a vote of league coaches released during the TranSouth Conference Media Day in Jackson, Tenn. Defending national champion Union University was the unanimous choice as the top team in the conference. Union received all seven first-place votes and 63 points in the Preseason Coaches Poll, while Freed-Hardeman, Trevecca Nazarene and Bethel Univ. were unanimous choices as the Nos. 2, 3 and 4 teams in the league, respectively. Lyon College (33), Martin Methodist (26), Cumberland (25), Blue Mountain (12) and Mid-Continent (9) rounded out the preseason poll. At least one TranSouth Conference team has reached the NAIA championship game in each of the last five years, with a conference member winning the national title in four of the five seasons. Cumberland reached the title game in 2007 before falling to Lambuth Univ.
