

HDI

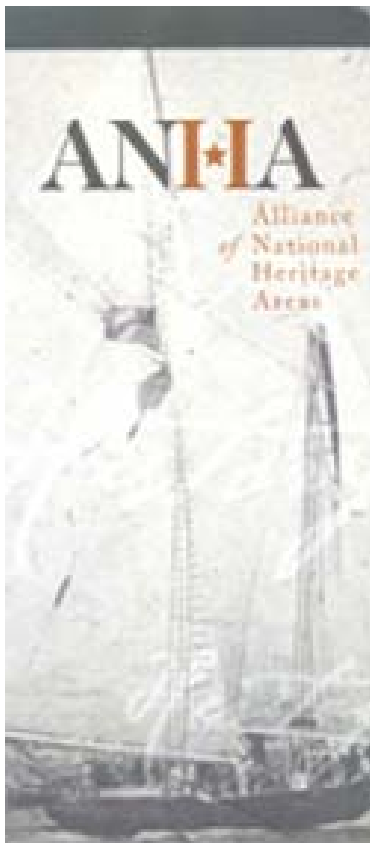

HERITAGE DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

A training initiative of the Alliance of National Heritage Areas

September 27, 2004

ANHA to Host HDI Session, Reception at National Trust Conference

As part of the National Trust for Historic Preservation annual conference in Louisville, Kentucky, the Alliance of National Heritage Areas is offering a half-day workshop entitled Heritage Areas: The Basics of Getting Started.

This interactive session, scheduled for Wednesday, September 29, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., will address fundraising, engaging constituents, attracting political support, forming public and private partnerships, resource conservation, and interpretation and education. Participants will have the opportunity to consult with several National Heritage Area directors, National Park Service officials, and heritage development professionals.

ANHA

Alliance of National Heritage
Areas

In This Issue...

- Join us in Louisville for the NTHP Annual Conference
- A Wrap-up of Last Week's HDI Sessions in Montana
- ANHA Selects Executive Director
- Additions to Your Heritage Development Reading List

Subscribe to the HDI e-newsletter

E-mail
hdi@mtsu.edu

Speakers include ANHA Executive Director John Cosgrove; Augie Carlino President & CEO of Rivers of Steel NHA; Brenda Barrett, NPS Coordinator of National Heritage Areas; Carole Summers, Director of Tourism at Handmade in America; and Carroll Van West, Director of Tennessee Civil War NHA. For a workshop schedule, visit the HDI website.

The ANHA, along with the National Park Service, will receive a partnership award from the National Trust for Historic Preservation during the Trust's awards ceremony on Thursday, September 30. This award, in part, acknowledges the partnership effort represented by the Heritage Development Institute. After the ceremony, ANHA members and supporters will attend an ANHA-sponsored reception the next evening from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Join us for more information about the Alliance and the International Heritage Development Conference to be held in Nashville, Tennessee, in June 2005.

Montana Communities Welcome HDI

Interested in promoting culture, heritage, tourism, and economic development in Montana, several federal, state, and local officials, non-profit representatives, business owners, and property owners attended the recent HDI workshops in

Events Calendar

September 29, 2004

9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.
HDI Workshop
Louisville, Kentucky

September 30, 2004

7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.
ANHA Reception
Louisville, Kentucky

June 4-8, 2005

International Heritage
Development Conference
Nashville, Tennessee

www.ihdc2005.org

Virginia City and Butte. The Montana Preservation Alliance and Headwaters RC&D co-sponsored the workshops, which were held in two National Historic Landmark Districts, Virginia City and Butte.

Over eighty people attended these workshops, which gained regional publicity through the Montana Standard newspaper and an interview with Van West of the HDI on Butte's ABC television affiliate. The Virginia City meeting, which took place at the historic WPA-constructed community gymnasium, focused on the need for regional coordination, the economic potential of heritage areas, and the issue of property rights within a national heritage area. The Butte meeting addressed these same issues while looking closely at the "next steps" and how the group could begin the process of community discussion and involvement for heritage area development.

Cosgrove to Lead ANHA

The Alliance of National Heritage Areas recently named John Cosgrove as its first executive director. This is the organization's first professional staff member since its establishment in 1997. Cosgrove formerly served as the executive director of the Lacka-

Contact the ANHA

John Cosgrove, Exec. Director
anha.cosgrove@adelphia.net
202.528.7549

www.nationalheritageareas.com

Visit

www.cr.nps.gov/heritageareas

- National Heritage Area (NHA) Contact Information
- NHA Economic Data
- Criteria for National Designation
- GAO Report on NHAs
- List of Current Designation and Study Bills
- Sample Studies, Plans

wanna Valley Heritage Authority in Scranton, Pennsylvania. Meet John and other Alliance members at this week's National Trust for Historic Preservation annual conference in Louisville.

Additions to Your Heritage Development Reading List

- Gamboni, Dario. "World Heritage: Shield or Target?" Getty Conservation Institute Newsletter 16.2 (Summer 2001): 5-11. Available online at www.getty.edu/conservation/publications/newsletters/.
- Callaway, Don. "Striking Balance: Preserving Nature, Conserving Culture in the Alaska Ecosystem." Common Ground (Spring 2001). Available online at http://www.cr.nps.gov/aad/cg/spr_2001/Balance.htm
- The Cultural Resource Network features the latest news and information concerning archaeology, architectural history, historic preservation, ethnography, and museums. Visit www.eculturalresources.com to learn more.

Contact the HDI

Van West, HDI Chair
Sarah Martin, Coordinator
MTSU Box 438
Murfreesboro, TN 37132
615.494.8916

hdi@mtsu.edu

Submit information for publication in our October
e-newsletter

hdi@mtsu.edu

Access recent HDI
e-newsletters at

www.heritagedevelopmentinstitute.org

The Alliance of National Heritage Areas (ANHA) established the Heritage Development Institute (HDI) as a way of providing leadership to the heritage development field as well as creating training and analysis of the best practices in our heritage areas across the country. The HDI Newsletter is sponsored by the ANHA, Middle Tennessee State University's Center for Historic Preservation, and the Tennessee Civil War National Heritage Area. To submit information, and update e-mail addresses, please e-mail us at hdi@mtsu.edu.