From the Dean

Thou, of life the author, death didst undergo, tread the path of darkness, saving strength to show; come then, true and faithful, now fulfill thy word, 'tis thine own third morning! Rise, O buried Lord! "Welcome, happy morning!" age to age shall say.

—The Hymnal 1982

Few hymn writers have had such impact on the Church's celebration of Holy Week and Easter Day as Venantius Honorius Clementianus Fortunatus (535- 605 A.D.). His hymn, "Sing, my tongue, the glorious battle," is one of only two hymns in the entire 1979 Book of Common Prayer prescribed for singing at particular times during the liturgical year. Likewise, few are the Episcopal churches where you will not hear his "Welcome, happy morning!" or its sister English translation, "Hail thee, festival day," sung on Easter Day.

His life took many unexpected turns. Just when he thought himself set on a lifelong path, the Lord would show him another bend in the road and ask him to follow it. The family into which he was born was not Christian. As a young child, through the witness of friends, of their families, and a local lay catechist, Venantius converted to Christianity. Particularly instrumental in his conversion was his participation in the Holy Week/Easter Octave cycle of worship in his home town of Aquileia, Italy.

He was an enthusiastic youth and a passionate convert who longed to praise his God and Maker through poetry. While he was still a student, an undiagnosed physical illness put him to bed for six months. Hagiographers note that were it not for the anointing of Venantius's eyes with oil from the lamp that burned before the altar of St. Martin of Tours and for the patron saint's intercession, he would have lost his eyesight.

In thanksgiving for the healing the young student undertook a pilgrimage to Tours via trading routes through what is today Germany. He depended on the hospitality of strangers, the religious, and at times even thieves. It was not unheard of for him to offer a poem, a song, or a bit of prose made up on the spot for his evening meal.

His poems and hymns not only served as offerings of praise and thanksgiving to his Lord and Maker; they inspired the faithful—including abbots, priests, bishops, and kings—everywhere he went. Even those who had lost their faith or whose hearts were hardened by indifference came to know the saving power of Jesus Christ through his witness.

Fifteen hundred years later, the twists and turns of our lives will lead us again through the Sacred Triduum. We will again make present the fullness of the Paschal mystery aided by the hymns and poetry of Venantius Honorius Clementianus Fortunatus. When you kneel to venerate the cross this Good Friday, when you lift your hands heavenward in wonder at the Lord's resurrection on Easter Day, whisper a prayer of thanksgiving for the witness of this one northern Italian poet whose hymns continue to convict, convert, and inspire.

CORNERSTONE

St. George's, Baghdad – Global Missions

St. George's, Baghdad

The Anglican church of St. George's, Baghdad is the latest and perhaps most challenging of our parish's missions in the world at large. It serves an indigenous Christian community in the unprotected 'red zone' of the city and is constantly in physical danger, both to its people and to its buildings in the sectarian violence that continues to keep the place in perpetual turmoil.

This resolute Christian community, headed by an English priest with long experience of the region, Canon Andrew White, provides a place of worship for several hundred. It is the last Anglican church still open in Iraq, and it provides humanitarian relief to scores of other people of the city, Muslim, Jew and Christian.

St. George's operates a daily soup kitchen, clothing distribution center and a full medical clinic staffed by Iraqi professionals. The church is supported independently by donations from worldwide appeals, including our own, through the Foundation for Relief and Reconciliation in the Middle East. In 2009 we designated a portion of our Global Missions funds to St. George's, as we plan to do for 2010. Moreover, our weekly prayers of the people include the blessing of this community in Sunday services. At present there is little prospect for actual personal pilgrimage in service to St. George's, but as conditions permit, that certainly would be something we want to facilitate.

For more information you may find in-depth reports from the foundation's website: www.firme.org. There is also an inspiring story by Canon White in his recent book entitled The Vicar of Baghdad. For questions or comments addressed to our own Global Missions Committee, please contact Ken Penegar, committee liaison person, at kenp4141@aol.com.

In Honor Of The Reverend Canon Geoffrey Butcher

To celebrate Geoffrey's pastoral and music ministry here at Christ Church Cathedral, a setting of the Evening Canticles (Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis) that are always sung at Choral Evensong has been commissioned of composer Gary Davison.

Mr. Davison is Organist and Choirmaster at the Church of St. Francis in Potomac, Maryland, a member of the Association of Anglican Musicians, and a well-known composer of choral music. The Cathedral Music Library already contains several of his compositions, two of which are featured on the Cathedral Choir disc, Christ Hath a Garden.

The Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis are currently being composed and will be delivered to the Cathedral Choir immediately after Easter. They will be premiered at Geoffrey's farewell Choral Evensong on May 2.

Plan to come and hear these exciting new compositions and take part in celebrating Geoffrey's ministry among us at Christ Church Cathedral. Childcare will be provided for Evensong and there will be a Festive Reception following.

The 11th Annual Diocesan Chorister Festival Has Been Rescheduled For April 17-18, 2010 At The Cathedral

Christ Church Cathedral Senior Choristers and their Directors, Dr. Velting and Mr. Johnson will host Choristers from throughout our Diocese at the 11th Annual Diocesan Chorister Festival, rescheduled for April 17-18, 2010 at the Cathedral. This year we welcome Dr. Dale Adelman, Canon for Music at the Cathedral of St. Philip in Atlanta, as our guest director.

The Festival is a two-day event sponsored by the Cathedral and the Diocese. Saturday is filled with fun rehearsals and social time from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Choristers then return to the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon to participate in the Festival Evensong, which is the culmination of all their hard work. For the third year in a row, Bishop Bauerschmidt will preside at Evensong.

For the last two years, in addition to Choristers from across the Diocese of Tennessee, we have had the participation of Choristers from St. Francis' Church, Potomac, Maryland, and from the Church of the Nativity in Huntsville, Alabama. We anticipate that many of those Choristers will join our Diocesan Choristers as our guests again this year.

Outreach Ministry...

FOLLOWING CHRIST AND SERVING THE PRESTON TAYLOR COMMUNITY

Did you see the film presented on February 3, on poverty in Nashville? Its clear message was that EDUCATION is critical for a person to rise up out of their poverty situation. Preston Taylor Ministries (PTM) was established in 1998 for the purpose of helping the families who live in the Preston Taylor Public Housing area in West Nashville deal with the poverty-related problems they face. PTM works at inspiring hope through building Christian, life-changing relationships with the children and families they serve.

PTM's goal is for every student enrolled to improve in reading skills by providing reading specialists as well as volunteers to read with them and help with homework. In addition, they try to provide each child with a caring adult to be a lunch mate mentor, hoping they will develop a meaningful relationship with this role model/friend from outside their community.

Greer Broemel and PTM Friends

Junior and senior high students participate in a PTM sponsored youth program at St. Andrews Church close by. In addition to Bible study and fun activities, they have opportunities to be mentored by professionals in the Nashville marketplace during their spring break, learning about jobs and career possibilities. PTM also provides opportunities for Christian discipleship and challenges each student to grow in a relationship with God. PTM works to inspire them to dream and to help them achieve those God-inspired dreams.

Would you like to help make a difference? There is a place for you at PTM in 2010. Contact liason Margaret Neblett at 414-4916 or Chan Sheppard, PTM director, at 596-4386. You may also learn more at www.ptmweb.ik.org.

Cost $25 per person

(payment is required with reservation)

A practical workshop taught by volunteers from Thistle Farms. Go home with some elegant soap that you made yourself. Jewelweed is a native herb often used to prevent or soothe poison ivy rash. Every home gardener and person who hikes in the woods needs this soap. Reservations and payment are required by Noon on Friday, April 23. You may register online at www.christcathedral.org/gettinginvolved/earthministry, in person at the church or mail a check payable to CCC with Earth Ministry, in the memo to 900 Broadway, Nashville, TN 37203 c/o Marti Lawson. For more information on these events please contact Barbara Deneke at barbaradeneke@comcast.net or 383-3269.

The Liturgy of Light

The Liturgy of Light will be held Sunday, April 25, at 10 a.m. in the Nave. This liturgy is modeled after the Easter Vigil. The sixth grade class has planned the liturgy and will help lead it. The entire parish is encouraged to attend this wonderful event taking place in the Nave during the Sunday school hour. All participants will receive a candle and will watch as the light spreads across the front of the Nave. Children in the catechesis program will go to their classes first and then come to the Nave as a group. Come join us and help spread the Light!

Announcements...

Second Saturday Work Day: The first work day for the West Nashville Community Development Partnership will take place on Saturday, April 10. There will be a work day every second Saturday through October. Volunteers from the Cathedral and other congregations in Nashville are asked to meet at 8 a.m. in front of the Fred Rogers Gymnasium at St. Luke's Community House where they will be assigned to teams to repair, clean-up and paint the homes of elderly and disadvantaged residents in the St. Luke's neighborhood. All work assignments should be finished by 12:30 p.m. This is a great opportunity to provide help to those in need. For further information or to sign-up as a volunteer please call Phil LeGrone at 385-41761 or plegrone@comcast.net.

SAVE THE DATE: Parish Weekend Away will be August 20-22, at NaCoMe Conference Center. The Cathedral Book Club: The Cathedral Book Club will meet Thursday, April 22, 7 p.m., at the home of Mary Margaret Peel, 3615 Woodmont Blvd. The book for discussion will be Hotel On The Corner Of Bitter And Sweet by Jamie Ford. All interested persons are welcome.

Eat Out For A Good Cause: Would you like to eat out and support a great cause? On April 27, over 65 restaurants in the Nashville area will be giving some or all of their proceeds to Nashville CARES as part of a national event known as Dining Out for Life. For details, go to www.diningoutforlife.com/nashville. There you will find a list of participating restaurants from which to choose. In past years, over $80,000 has been raised for Nashville CARES, one of the ministries currently supported by Christ Church Cathedral.

Flower Guild Looking For Plant Material Donations: The Christ Church Cathedral Flower Guild is putting together a list of plant material that would be available from members' gardens to use in the flower arrangements that adorn the Chancel each week. Plant material is especially needed on Easter, All Saints, and Christmas. Please contact Sharon Noe at snoe21@mac.com or 481-1001 if you will have flowers or greenery to donate this spring, summer or fall so she can put it on her schedule. The Flower Guild would also be happy to come and clip or prune what you are offering at the appropriate time.

Cathedral Flowers: The beautiful flowers you see in the Cathedral every Sunday are a sign of our praise and glorify God. They also express the generosity of those who contribute to our Flower Fund. To give flowers on an upcoming Sunday, contact Elizabeth Madsen in the Cathedral office at 255-7729. The cost for flowers is $150.

The Bones Workshop, A Practical Approach to Bone Health: This workshop is led by Katherine Correa LMT, Breema Instructor, in the Cathedral Annex Building on Fridays, from 11 a.m.-12 p.m. $15 per class. Bring a friend. For more information call Anne Stevenson at 255-7729.
